Western Regional Climate Leadership Discussion

Governor Kate Brown, Oregon

Oregon is upholding the tradition of leading on environmental stewardship with the passage of the nation's first coal-to-clean law, eliminating out-of-state coal-fired electricity for good by 2030 while increasing renewable energy to 50% by 2040. Oregon has continued historic investment in energy efficiency, significant renewable energy development, and support for alternative transportation fuels such as electric vehicles. These policies support family-wage jobs in the Oregon's clean energy economy.

Governor Jay Inslee, Washington

During his time in Congress, Inslee became known as a forward-thinking leader on the issues on clean energy and the environment. Washington has implemented a cap on carbon pollution and committed to double the state's commitment to Electric Vehicle deployment in the fleet to 20%.

Learn about the historic partnership between Washington, Oregon and California, which is creating hundreds of thousands of new jobs by investing in clean energy.
