

COMMUNITY OF BUSINESS™

Los Angeles business events

Habitat for Humanity of Greater Los Angeles hosted its annual Los Angeles Builders Ball Sept. 26 at the Beverly Hilton. The event honors organizations that share Habitat for Humanity's commitment to affordable housing. City National Bank was the event's presenting sponsor and Linda Duncombe, executive vice president at CNB and member of Habitat L.A.'s board of directors, announced the bank's national partnership with Habitat L.A. City National teamed up with Habitat to help support affordable housing on a wider scale.

1a More than 300 participants attended the build.

1b Erin Rank (right), president and chief executive of Habitat for Humanity of Greater Los Angeles, with Linda Duncombe.

1c City National employees built 10 new homes in Culver City at the Hollywood Build earlier this year.

1d City National Bank Executive Vice President Linda Duncombe announces the bank's partnership with Habitat for Humanity.

1e Children of Habitat homeowner families performed at the event.

1f Eric Dickerson, Hall of Fame running back who played for the National Football League's Los Angeles Rams, presents the Dream Builder Award to his former team.